Dear IPMBA Members:

On behalf of the men and women of the Asheville Police Department, I am honored to welcome you to beautiful Western North Carolina for the International Police Mountain Bike Association’s 26th Annual Conference.

The City of Asheville is an eclectic city that is the center of commerce for the region, but maintains a festive atmosphere with amazing dining, craft beer, and music. Asheville is home to all manner of cyclists, from professional road cycling teams with easy access to the Blue Ridge Parkway that runs through the center of town. Additionally, world-class mountain biking can be found only minutes away from the city limits in Pisgah National Forest. Asheville was also host to the recent 2016 USA Cycling Cyclocross National Championships. With four distinct seasons, Western North Carolina is a stunning place to ride throughout the year.

For many years, the Asheville Police Department has employed bicycle patrols, particularly in our downtown. APD has a Downtown Unit comprised of 14 officers who focus their efforts on our central business district through focused patrols, community engagement, enforcement, community events and parades, and providing a liaison to our downtown business and residential community.

The Downtown Unit has worked tirelessly to bring you the most safe and successful conference possible and the Asheville Police Department is proud to be your host. We hope you enjoy your stay in our beautiful city and look forward to seeing you in action during the conference.

Sincerely,

Tammy Hooper
Chief of Police

The City of Asheville is committed to delivering an excellent quality of service to enhance your quality of life.
Dear IPMBA Conference Attendee:

Welcome to Asheville, North Carolina, for the 26th Annual IPMBA Conference. We are thrilled to bring the conference to a place renown for its beauty, history, music, culinary arts, and outdoor recreation opportunities.

On behalf of the IPMBA board, staff, members, and conference attendees, I would like to extend my sincere thanks to the Asheville Police Department for hosting the conference. We appreciate the support of Mayor Esther Manheimer and the City Council, Chief Tammy Hooper, AB-Tech, Asheville Fire Department, Buncombe County EMS, UNC-Asheville, the Asheville Buncombe Regional Sports Commission, and Explore Asheville, without which this conference would not have been possible. We are grateful for the generous in-kind and financial contributions from Asheville’s business community, and we extend a special thanks to Asheville on Bikes, Kolo Bike Park, and New Belgium Brewing Company.

IPMBA would like to recognize the members of the Command Staff, identifiable by their Bratwear shirts, who will be seen working hard to ensure you have an excellent experience. Special thanks to Asheville Police Sergeant Evan Coward, whose first experience with IPMBA at the 2011 Conference in Richmond inspired him to invite IPMBA to Asheville, and to whom we are most grateful. He and committee members Todd Brigman, Sean Davis, Christopher Dennis, Travis Duyck, James French, Brien Griffin, Heather Hine, Joe Johnson, Lucas Lovelace, Boyd McCaskill, Sarah McGhee, John Radford, Sharlene Raines, Doug Sheehan, Jackie Stepp, Eric Stewart, Lisa Taube, Hunter Welborn, and Joshua Veridal have invested many hours into the planning and implementation of this conference. Their efforts have been supported by others too numerous to mention, but whose contributions are nonetheless valued.

Finally, IPMBA thanks you for attending the 26th Annual IPMBA Conference. We recognize that many of you have overcome such obstacles as staffing shortages, training budget reductions, and travel restrictions to be here. We appreciate the priority you place on the quality training programs offered by IPMBA, and we are confident the experience will exceed your expectations.

Welcome to Asheville!

Maureen Becker
Executive Director

P.S. See you in Delaware, Ohio, June 5-9, 2017, for the 27th Annual IPMBA Conference!

You gotta play to win!
On September 27, 2006, a gunman entered Platte Canyon High School, held seven girls hostage and ultimately shot and killed Emily Keyes. During the time she was held hostage, Emily sent her parents these text messages: “I love you guys” and “I love u guys. k?”

Emily’s kindness, spirit, fierce joy, and the dignity and grace shown by the Keyes family following this tragic event define the core of the “I Love U Guys” Foundation.

John-Michael Keyes is the Executive Director of the “I Love U Guys” Foundation, which was created to restore and protect the joy of youth through educational programs and positive actions in collaboration with families, schools, communities, organizations and government entities.

John-Michael represents the “I Love U Guys” Foundation to districts, departments, agencies and school safety organizations.

His professional career has included graphic design, software development, and workflow analysis. The death of his daughter compelled Mr. Keyes to bring his professional expertise to the arena of school safety.

After extensive research, the “I Love U Guys” Foundation developed the Standard Response Protocol (SRP), a classroom response to any critical incident.

In 2012, the Foundation introduced the Standard Reunification Method (SRM), a practice that helps schools reunite students and parents with greater accountability and less uncertainty.

Since May 2009, as a result of hundreds of presentations at various types of events, conferences, and venues, these programs have been adopted by districts, departments and agencies in several states.
